Tian-Zhi is a final-year PhD student at School of Advanced Manufacturing and Robotics, Peking University. Also, he is currently a visiting PhD student (Dec-2024 - Dec-2025) at Nanyang Technological University (NTU), Singapore. Prior to that, he received his B.Sc. in Mathematics from Beijing Institute of Technology (BIT) in 2021.

His research interest lies in the field of Dynamics and Control of mechanical systems. He is especially interested in leveraging differential geometry and physical principles to develop computationally efficient algorithms for dynamics, control, estimation, and learning with sound theoretical guarantees. Specifically, they include:

(a) Geometric Mechanics & Control (especially stochastic & nonholonomic)

(b) Structure-Preserving Algorithms (variational integrators)

(c) Geometric Estimation & Filtering (for robotic and flexible systems)

(d) Physics-Informed Learning on Manifolds (e.g., rigid-body dynamics of robots)
